R. C. Goodrich, acting in the interests of Mrs. Julia Hanson, has requested the refunding of costs and interest for the second half of tax for the year 1892, on lot 5, square 289, assessed in the name of Julia Hanson. H. H. Darneille, the Assessor, after considering the matter, has forwarded to the Commissioners the folowing statement, which it is understood that the Board will approve:

"The records show payment on this property May 6, 1901, for second half tax 1892, in the amount of $17.71, and by reference to the records of the Collector, the amount of $143.94 was paid in penaltie and interest, making a total of $261.65.

"On December 21, 1878, the Board of Commissioners, which was then compose of Messrs. Phelps, Dent, and Major Twin ig, pursuant to authority vested in them bolish any office, consolidate two or more ffices, etc.,' passed the following order First, that two of the offices of Assessor e abolished; second, that the remaining ffice of Assessor be consolidated with ofce of Treasurer and the office of Superr's office,' and later fixed the salary of the Treasurer and Assessor at $3,000 per num from January 1, 1879. "The act of March 3, 1881, abolished after he 30th day of June, 1881, the office of surer of the District, and on July 1 that the incumbent of the office of Treas-arer and Assessor should continue to act is Assessor."

Mr. Darnellle also informed the Comulssioners that it was very difficult to inforce the law, even if it did not have he defects pented out.

In his opinion the Attorney said "While hese and other defects have for years ast doubt upon the sufficiency of the tw, as yet there has been no contested ase in which the courts have passed pon its validity or sufficiency, and it is alte apparent that Congress has always apposed it to be in full force, for, at each ession, a specific appropriation is made in its enforcement. After a careful relew of the mater, I am of the opinion lat, notwithstanding the defects indited by the Assessor, the personal tax w is maintainable and its provisions forceable."

J. D. Milans, of - E Street northwest recently applied for the return of th und fee paid for the release of his dog which was captured and impounded after having lost its tag. The application we through the usual course, the Poundmas-ter reporting that the dog was captured while running at large without collar of tag, and the Health Officer recommending that the application be not granted. that the application be not granted. In his report the Health Officer informs the Commissioners that he sees no reason for so doing. He suggests the application is based apparently upon the failure to distinguish between the tax paid for the privilege orf keeping the dog and the penalty for allowing it to run at large in violation of the law. The action of the Commissioners is based upon the report of the Health Officer, and the applicant will be so informed.

The Commissioners have informed J. V. N. Huyck, of 1505 Pennsylvania Avenue northwest, that the fifteen foot alley south of parts of lots 34 and 35, square 39, is a public alley.

AN EXTENSION FOR BROKERS Trustees Appointed and Creditors Agree Not to Press Claims.

The creditors of the brokerage firm urley & Johnson, to the number of sixty or more, representing 95 per cent of their iabilities, met yesterday afternoon at the flices of the firm and agreed not to pres their claims. James M. Green and Fred-erick E. Chapin were appointed by them t the instance of Mr. Johnson, as trus tees to take charge of the collection of the debts due the firm, for the benefit of the creditors. Mr. Johnson, who intends to continue in business, also agreed to be ersonally resmonsible for the entire amount of the liabilities, and it is ex-pected that he will now be able to resume

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Johnson and also by A. S. Worthington attorney for the firm. No official written statement of the condition of the house was made but the verbal statement made by these two gentlemen was as follows: There are no cash assets, and no assets of any kind except the debts due the firm by its customers and others. The total amount of all debts due the firm is about $450,000, but of this only $277,000 is considered probably collectible. The liabilities of the firm, composed almost er irely of debts due customers, amounts to $235,000. The agreement was made that $225,000. The agreement was made that the trustees shall make quarterly reports to the creditors of the collections made, and that all money collected shall be paid out equitably to the creditors.

All the creditors at the meeting, without exception, signed the agreement. Of the few that were not at the meeting it is said that nearly all are out of town. It is understood that there is no opposition to the agreement, which would not have been of any avail except through unanimous consent.
